The appearance of a name and the mention of honors in this publication do not guarantee that the individual has met all academic requirements for graduation. Likewise, the absence of a name or honors designation does not necessarily indicate ineligibility for a degree or academic distinction.

All degrees and academic honors are subject to final review and certification by the Office of the University Registrar upon completion of all academic requirements.

We appreciate your understanding and extend our warmest congratulations to all members of the Class of 2023-2024.

You have earned more than a degree, you've earned perspective, purpose, and the pride of accomplishment. This moment belongs to you, and it belongs to those who believed in you: your parents, your families, your mentors, and every peer who stood beside you along the way. Never forget the power of their support and carry their faith in you as your compass.

As you move from receiving to giving, may the curiosity that brought you here continue to guide you. Let your success speak not only through achievements, but through the values you represent. Wherever life takes you, remember that you are not only graduates; you are ambassadors of this institution, its ideals, and its aspirations.

Your university, your college, and your faculty are all proud of you. Let this pride be matched by your gratitude and the integrity you bring into the world. Keep the bond with your university alive; it will always be a place that welcomes your return.

Congratulations on this milestone. The future is wide open—and it's yours to shape.

With heartfelt wishes for continued success,

MESSAGE FROM

COLLEGE OF LAW (CLAW)

Message of the Dean of the College of Law

My sons and daughters, graduates of the College of Law at the American University in the Emirates, I congratulate you all on the honor you have achieved through the study of law. I advise you and myself to follow the word of truth and justice with neutrality and impartiality as the law is the realization of truth and justice. A lawyer "is a voice for the silent and a weapon for the weak." The tools through which that is realized are the person's tongue and pen, through which justice is achieved. The legal profession is a difficult profession, but at the same time it is an enjoyable profession, as it requires intelligence, knowledge and skills that guide how to apply legal knowledge in a way that achieves its goal.

You must continue to seek knowledge and research to develop your knowledge, skills and abilities and prepare as much as you can on the path of defending what is right and upholding justice. Your professors at the American University in the Emirates are always beside you and support you, and the university is proud of its graduates when it sees you as leaders in all fields raising the banner of truth and justice with knowledge and effort.

For what happiness compares to your happiness, my sons and daughters, graduates of the Faculty of Law, when the truth appears in your hands, and what honor is comparable to that which you reach when justice triumphs with your audible and written words.

I wish you all continued success, and may God make you a tool for the triumph of the truth and the establishment of justice!
